MISCELLANEOUS.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper.

ONLY A MIRAGE.

Wear I trod the desert one day,
And fiercely the sun beat down;
The goal I sought was not far away,
But the sands were hot and brown.
It must be near, I said to my heart,
Unless I have missed the trail;
Only a few more furlongs can part
From the home that welcomes me back.

"THE LONG ARM."

A Case of Plagiarism.

It was 6 o'clock in the evening, and the editor of The Monthly Record sat alone in his room at a large desk strewn with papers and cuttings, gazing thoughtfully at the sheets of manuscript which he had taken from a pile before him.

"I can't understand it at all," he was thinking. "Except for the change of scene and the matter of turning a collision into a fire, the two stories are practically identical. At any rate, they're rather too similar for me to pass the matter over. The extra chapter is original enough, though, and really well written, I'll admit. But what on earth possessed the fellow to send here, out of all the offices in town where it might have gone instead? The whole thing is quite beyond me."

"I don't know quite what to say at this early stage in the proceedings," he said slowly. "But, let me see, first of all, what's the sender's name and address? Ah! 'Claude Hellingham, 14 Cadogan street, W.'"

He paused irresolutely for a second and then wrote on the sheet in front of him:

"Dear Sir—If the author of the short story, 'The Solitary Soul,' will call at this office at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, I or my representative will be glad to see him."

"There, that ought to fetch him," said the man, with a peculiar smile, as he signed the letter. "Douglas Baird, Editor." Then, directing the envelope to the address given on the manuscript, he posted it at the corner of the street on his way home.

On the afternoon of the following Thursday Douglas Baird sat in his office again. He was obviously not quite at his ease, and from time to time he would open one of the drawers of his desk and examine the papers it contained as if to assure himself that none of them were missing. Presently he looked at his watch.

"H'm! A quarter past 3 already," he mused. "I wonder if my correspondent is going to fight shy after all."

A tap at the door interrupted his soliloquy. In answer to his somewhat surly "Come in," the visitor entered. The editor of The Monthly Record slightly raised his eyebrows. Accustomed as he was to all sorts and conditions of visitors, it was not often that such a pretty girl as this invaded his office. His surprise vanished instantly. He could be charming to ladies when he chose. This was one of those occasions. Accordingly, he set a chair for the visitor and returned her timid greeting with a geniality calculated to dispel her very obvious nervousness.

It was a young but sad and troubled face that looked at him across the desk. The soft, fair hair might have adorned the sunny head of a child, but the girl's mouth had assumed a curve of unnatural determination, and the blue eyes were full of that awful fear which is to be seen only in the eyes of the refined poor.

"I have a letter from Mr. Baird, the editor—I don't know if you are here asking me to call at 3 today," said the girl.

"I am the editor, certainly, but I can't recollect writing to Miss—Chester. In fact, I expect some one else at this hour."

"Mr. Claude Hellingham, perhaps?" "Yes. Do you know him, then?" asked the man eagerly.

"Oh, yes, I think I may say I do, a little," she replied, smiling again. "In fact, I—I am the individual himself!"

"I don't quite understand," returned Baird wonderingly. "Is there such a person at all, then?"

"Oh, yes, very much so. I'm he, or rather, he's my nom de guerre," she answered quickly, seeming to enjoy his evident mystification.

"You?" he replied. "You? What on earth made you take such a pseudonym?" he demanded wonderingly.

"Oh, because I thought a man's name would give my story a better chance of acceptance. But why did you write to me?" she continued anxiously. "I thought you had accepted the tale. You are going to publish it, aren't you?" she added, all her smiles vanishing.

RUSSIAN POLICEMEN.

New Governor's Test For Their Alertness Was a Failure.

A good story is being told in St. Petersburg of the Russian police which the papers pronounce to be exceedingly characteristic. A new governor was sent to a certain town in the interior, and the inhabitants at once began to complain that the police were badly organized, since, however much they were wanted, they would never come when they were sent for. The governor determined to test this for himself, so one night he set out for the barracks where the police and the fire brigade were quartered. He accosted the sentry:

"Do you know me?" "Yes, your excellency." "If a man was being murdered close by, would you quit your post?" "Never, your excellency."

"Good," said the governor. "You know your duty. Well, what would you do?" "I would blow my whistle to rouse the guard."

"Good. Let us suppose some one is being murdered here. Whistle." The soldier blew, but not a soul answered. He blew again and again, but the same silence prevailed.

"That will do," said the governor at last. "You have whistled your utmost, and nobody has come; but, at any rate, your conscience is tranquil. Now you can go to sleep. The man could have been murdered two or three times over. It is unnecessary to overdo it by trying to wake your comrades, who appear to sleep like the dead. The czar should be proud of such steady soldiers."

With that the governor went off, congratulating himself that no one would be likely to accuse his police of having a share in the midnight murders of the town.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Maxwell's Orchestra.

To-morrow, Sunday, May 27th, at 8 p. m., Maxwell's Orchestra will play at the Methodist Church. The orchestra has been working hard since its last appearance and an entire new programme will be presented. A marked improvement has been made in playing in the last month and no one should miss this opportunity of hearing fine orchestral music. The advantages to be derived from having this large orchestra playing frequently in our midst cannot be over-estimated, and the refining influence of high class music rendered by a complete orchestra of thirty or more players must tend to awaken an interest in the best things in music, literature and art, and extend a wide influence in the direction of culture and education in general.

In these days of cheap, empty, jingling "rag-time" ditties that lack the very first essentials of good music and whose only claim to popularity is the fact that they require no mental exertion to understand and no musical ability to execute, it is refreshing and a most healthy and encouraging sign to find growing up in our community and receiving the strong support of our people an organization that aims to cultivate a desire on the part of the people, especially the young, to sing the songs and read the books and admire the pictures that are the work of great masters whose creations hold within them the greatest features of art, the results of the greatest intellectual activity, wide knowledge and experience and a high and exalted motive that tolerated nothing short of the best.

That the orchestra is accomplishing a great good in this community goes without saying, and all those connected with it are entitled to the utmost encouragement at the hands of our people.

At the concert Sunday evening there will be some special numbers including one by the brass quintet composed of the following gentlemen: Horace Appleton and Frido Clewe, cornets; Hartley Gottenberg and Guy Weems, horns; Frank Weems, trombone.

A Minister's Mistake.

A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure." This was hardly what he expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended for the reading.

New Advertisements.

Conrad Futterer, our local tailor, who has been suffering from eye trouble for several months, has resumed business at his old stand in the Clewe building. He announces in another column suits from $13 up and pants from $4 up. Drop in and have him take your measure for a new suit and encourage a home enterprise.

The professional card of Mme. Dr. E. Sattler-Simon, the lady doctor of San Francisco, appears in these columns this week. The Madame is a regularly graduated midwife and electrician. Her office is at 1709 Powell street, San Francisco, where she can be found between 1 and 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Do you intend to invest in "ile?" If so read the double-column adv. of the California Consolidated Petroleum Company on the second page of to-day's paper. The stock of this company is now selling for 50 cents per share but will be advanced to $1.00 in a month or so. R. E. Blackburn of Los Angeles, an old newspaper man, is the President of the company.

Do you ride a wheel? If so, read the adv. of A. Astill, bicycle repairer and dealer in bicycle sundries. He has opened a shop in the power house of the electric light company and will repair your wheel in a workmanlike manner and on reasonable terms. Read his adv. which appears in another column and take your wheels to him when they need repairing.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs SCOTT'S EMULSION. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

Scott's Emulsion

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

Should be taken in summer as well as winter.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Thos. Jones, manager of Chase's blooded race stock stables in this place, was on the witness stand for a number of hours Monday in the celebrated law suit over the stallion Morillo, on trial in the Superior Court of San Francisco the past week.

BLUES

Ever have them? Then we can't tell you anything about them. You know how dark everything looks and how you are about ready to give up. Somehow, you can't throw off the terrible depression.

Are things really so blue? Isn't it your nerves, after all? That's where the trouble is. Your nerves are being poisoned from the impurities in your blood.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

purifies the blood and gives power and stability to the nerves. It makes health and strength, activity and cheerfulness.

This is what "Ayer's" will do for you. It's the oldest Sarsaparilla in the land, the kind that was old before other Sarsaparillas were known.

This also accounts for the saying, "One bottle of Ayer's is worth three bottles of the ordinary kind."

It is a bottle. All druggists.

Write the Doctor.

If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly receive, write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost. Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. OIL. $5,000,000. 5,000,000 Shares.

California Consolidated Petroleum Company.

Stock Absolutely Non-Assessable. No Liability to Stockholders.

Owns 15,000 acres of the best oil lands in the best oil fields between Oakland and San Diego. Lands situated in the counties of Merced, San Benito, Fresno, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Kings, Kern, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, and Orange.

5000 Acres Leased to Capitalists on Royalty. 10,000 Acres Reserved for Development.

Par Value of this Stock is from $1.00 to $10.00 per Share.

IT HAS THREE SOURCES OF INCOME.

1st—Royalties collected on 5000 acres.

2nd—Dividends collected from 2,500,000 shares of stock held in 50 companies.

3rd—Oil produced from 10,000 acres.

It covers the Oil Interests of the State and will expand with them. Its eggs are not all in one basket.

It offers 50 chances to one compared to any other oil company. It is as sure to pay large dividends as there is oil in California.

Its plan is a new one and the best and safest yet conceived. Business men endorse the plan as do sensible, prudent, people everywhere.

Why buy the stock of an oil company having limited resources when you can in one company invest in the entire oil field of California? Why do it?

The California Consolidated Petroleum Company has men behind it of capital and high reputation. There are few people on the Pacific Coast who do not know some of the directors at least by reputation. Their names are not only a guarantee of the honest handling of the money but of the success of the company.

This company is not a trust. It is not connected directly or indirectly with the Standard Oil Company, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

The stock of this company can be bought for a short time at fifty cents per share, which is one-half of the par value. This offer will positively be withdrawn and stock advanced to $1.00 per share as soon as the block of Treasury Stock offered for sale has been sold.

Should the limited amount of stock offered at 50 cents per share be sold before receiving your application your money will be promptly returned. "First come, first served," is the Company's policy in selling this stock.

SONOMA, MAY 28, 1900.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Fourth of July Celebration.

Several young men of this place and vicinity, comprising the quintette of Maxwell's orchestra, have taken in hand the celebration of the Fourth of July on the public Plaza of Sonoma. Last year it was contemplated to celebrate in this city and with that object in view the various committees were about to be appointed when Glen Ellen, our sister town, signified her desire to celebrate and Sonoma very generously gave way to her. On that occasion the people of this place joined forces with those of Glen Ellen and did their share toward making the celebration in that place a success. That being so, the young men who have this year's celebration in hand confidently count upon Glen Ellen and other towns in this valley standing in with Sonoma on this occasion.

The young men composing the quintette have been hard at work the past few days selecting the various committees to assist them in their labors. It is their intention to have a parade in which bicycles will play a prominent part. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the quintette, composed of the following: Mrs. A. Pauli, piano; B. H. Jones, 1st violin; Horace Appleton Jr., 1st cornet; Mr. Son-dag, flute; Frank Weems, trombone. The day's festivities, aside from the parade, will consist of literary exercises and dancing in the pavilion, athletic games for prizes, and other features, the whole to conclude with a grand ball in the evening.

The following committees have been selected by the quintette:

General Committee—Hon. Robt. Howe, Sonoma; Chas. J. Poppe, Glen Ellen; T. S. Glaister, Sonoma; John Lounsbury, El Verano; M. P. Akers, Schellville; Theo. Wagner, Glen Ellen; F. T. Dun-ring.

Executive—W. O. Hocker, Chairman; Horace Appleton Jr., Dr. D. G. Rich, Milton McGimsey and Bert H. Jones.

Finance—G. S. Harris, Chairman, B. H. Jones and Frank Thier-koff.

Printing—O. Palestine, Dr. Got-tenberg and Horace Appleton Jr.

Decorations—Paul Robin, Chair-man; Wm. Wilson and Jos. Ryan.

Music—H. G. Maxwell, Chair-man; B. H. Jones and Horace Ap-pleton Jr.

Games—L. H. Green, Geo. Breit-enbach and Jas. Glynn.

BASE BALL AT EL VERANO.

Sonoma Team Defeats the Petaluma Nine.

The Petaluma Base Ball team met defeat in their contest with the Sonoma Valley boys on the diamond at El Verano last Sunday. The visiting team was togged up to kill in knickerbockers, sweaters, caps and emblems. The players for the home nine, which was picked up here and there around the valley, when they appeared upon the diamond looked anything but winners. Some wore blue overalls and suspenders, others were dressed in their Sunday clothes, and still others were rigged out in knicker-bockers and white tennis suits. Their sweaters represented all the colors of the rainbow and when the boys were grouped together they looked like a circus wagon. But what they lacked in uniformity of attire was more than made up in their playing and they downed the visitors by a score of 28 to 6. At no stage of the game were the Petaluma's in it.

RAWSON'S PACIFIC SHOWS

Under Canvas on the McDonnell Lot, Sonoma.

On Monday, May 28th, Prof. Rawson will present to the citizens of Sonoma and surrounding coun-try his troupe of thirty performing animals. Every act new. Every animal bred, raised and educated in California, giving one of the best performances by dumb brutes ever presented to the public. Rawson's Pacific Show caters to the refined and intelligent classes, and is a show of new-born ideas—an origi-nal, novel, entertaining and in-structive tent show. The little dog "Teddy" makes the wonderful jump of 42 feet from the extreme height of the ladder. Special notice is given of this feature because "Little Teddy" is the only dog be-fore the public that does this feat without any assistance. Don't fail to bring in the children to see this clever show of educated animals which teaches the object of kind treatment and what can be accom-plished with animals by patience. Remember there are dogs, ponies, goats, donkeys and monkeys, all performers. Performance at 8 p. m. on Monday night. Prices, 25c for adults; children, 15cts.

Narrow Escape from Being Burned to Death.

Mrs. M. Nau, for many years re-siding on her farm in Nun's Canyon, had a narrow escape from being burned to death, one day last week. While engaged in cooking, her dress caught fire from the kitchen stove. She was alone at the time and be-fore she could shout for assistance she swooned away from fright and fell against the hot stove. Members of the household, who were in an adjoining room, were attracted to the kitchen by the smell of burning clothing and rescued her from her perilous position. The fact of her fainting no doubt saved her life, as when she collapsed she fell in a heap and the flames from her burn-ing clothes were partially extin-guished. Had she ran out of the kitchen for assistance her clothing would have been fanned into a mass of flames and she would undoubt-edly have been burned to death. As it was, the fire from her smouldering clothing was easily put out, but not before she had received a number of severe burns about the body.
